
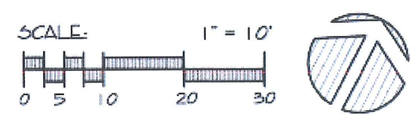
HETCH HETCHY TRAIL - OFF MAIN STREET

International Park Concept for Tom Evatt Park

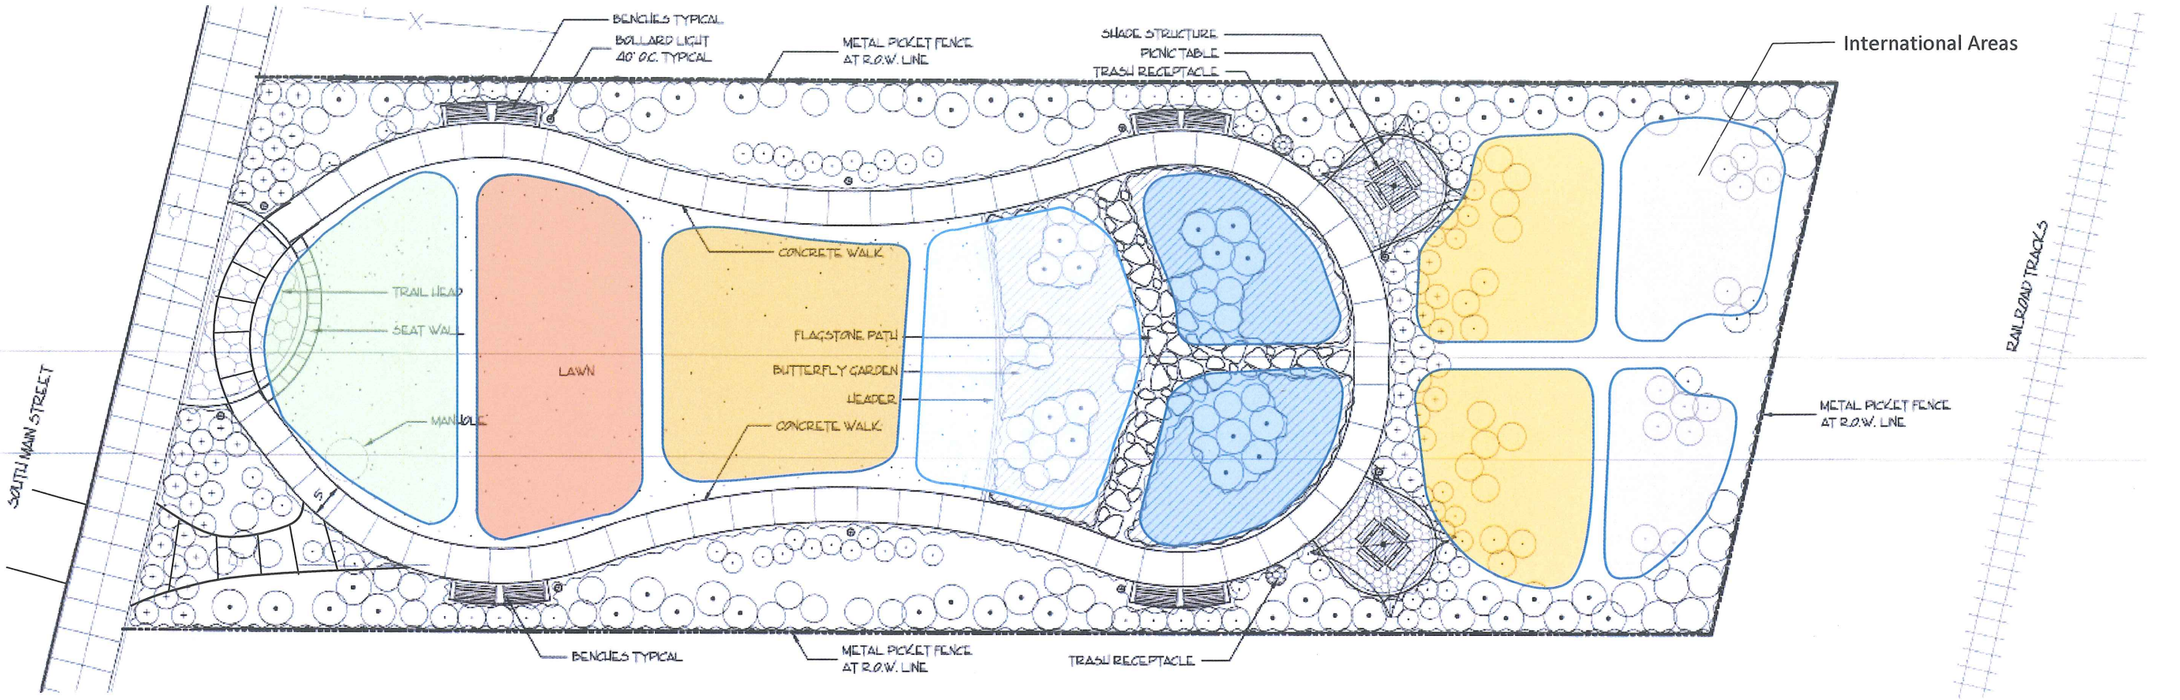
The City has received requests from international organizations, representing Philippines, India, Korea, and Vietnam organizations to have a public place to represent the culture of each respective country. Additional country representation is anticipated. Preliminary discussions have resulted in a concept of an "International Park" in Milpitas, and Tom Evatt Park was identified as a possible location due to its central and accessible midtown location.

The International Park concept is to provide a public space with an educational non-political theme of culture, arts, history, architecture, geography, native plants for each participating international group. The park could be divided into small delineated areas with the first to be located on the east side of Main Street. The concept could be expanded to the west side of main Street dependent on other organizations participation interest. If the concept moves forward, staff would develop policies, procedures and specifications for size of each areas. Although there are no preliminary design plans to review, Staff will discuss with the Commission and request the Commission review the concept and provide feedback.

International Park Concept for Tom Evatt Park



February 25, 2015



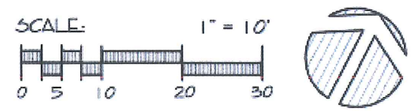
HETCH HETCHY TRAIL - OFF MAIN STREET

International Park Concept for Tom Evatt Park

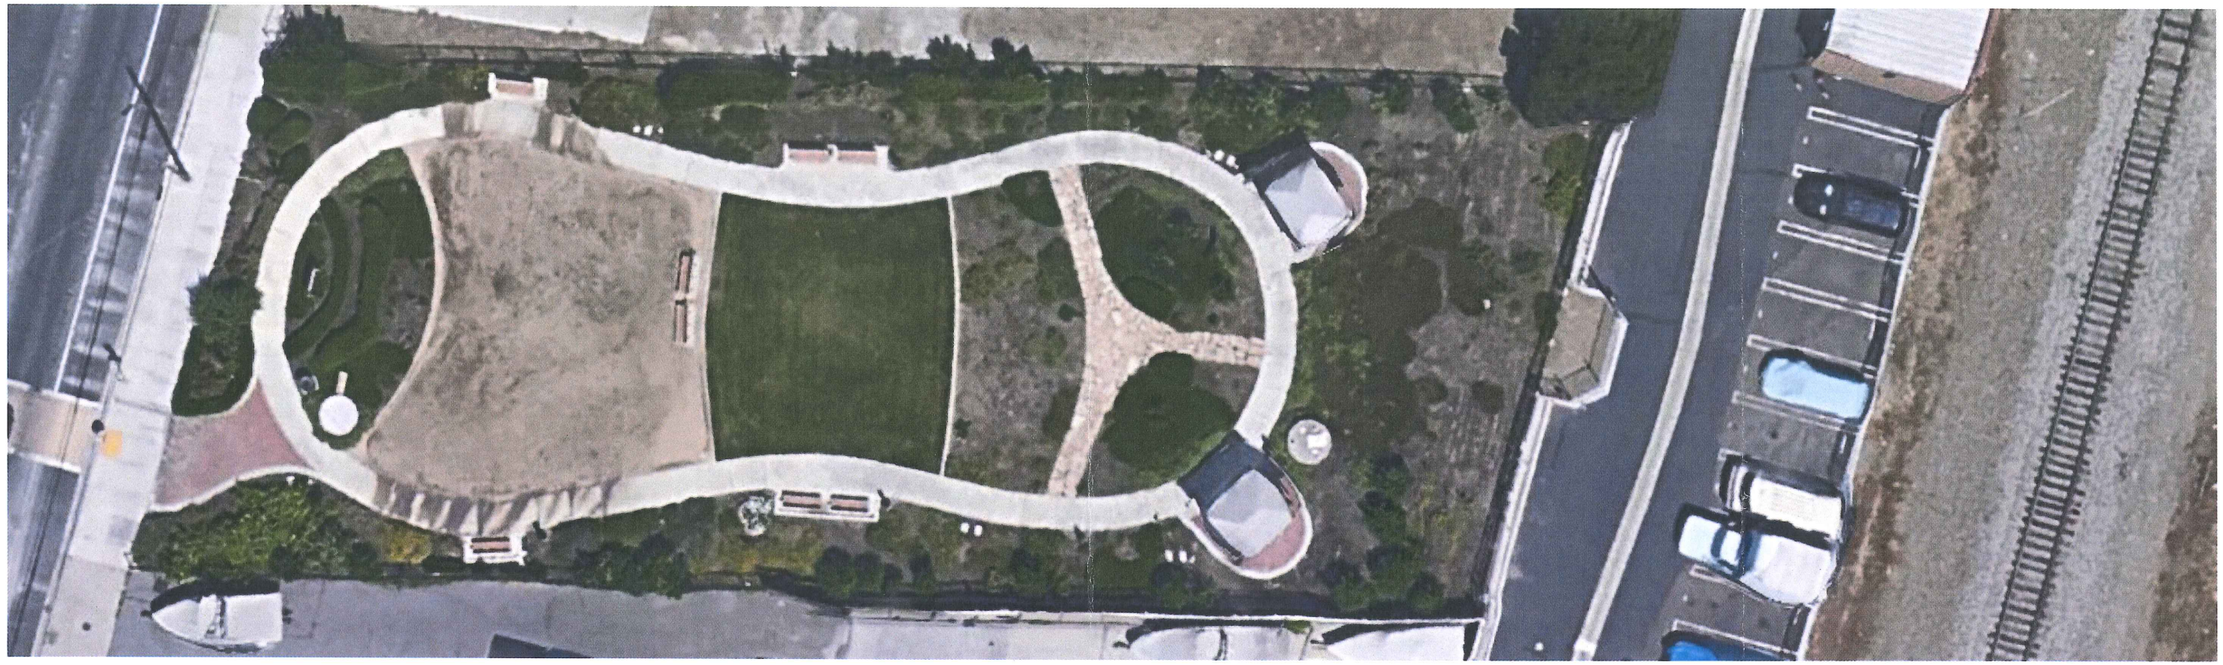
The City has received requests from international organizations, representing Philippines, India, Korea, and Vietnam organizations to have a public place to represent the culture of each respective country. Additional country representation is anticipated. Preliminary discussions have resulted in a concept of an "International Park" in Milpitas, and Tom Evatt Park was identified as a possible location due to its central and accessible midtown location.

The International Park concept is to provide a public space with an educational non-political theme of culture, arts, history, architecture, geography, native plants for each participating international group. The park could be divided into small delineated areas with the first to be located on the east side of Main Street. The concept could be expanded to the west side of main Street dependent on other organizations participation interest. If the concept moves forward, staff would develop policies, procedures and specifications for size of each areas. Although there are no preliminary design plans to review, Staff will discuss with the Commission and request the Commission review the concept and provide feedback.

International Park Concept for Tom Evatt Park



February 25, 2015

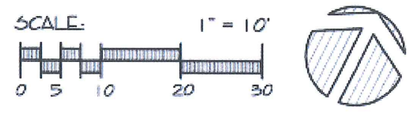


International Park Concept for Tom Evatt Park

The City has received requests from international organizations, representing Philippines, India, Korea, and Vietnam ns to have a public place to represent the culture of each respective country. Additional country representation is anticipated. Preliminary discussions have resulted in a concept of an "International Park" in Milpitas, and Tom Evatt Park was identified as a possible location due to its central and accessible midtown location.

The International Park concept is to provide a public space with an educational non-political theme of culture, arts, history, architecture, geography, native plants for each participating international group. The park could be divided into small delineated areas with the first to be located on the east side of Main Street. The concept could be expanded to the west side of main Street dependent on other organizations participation interest. If the concept moves forward, staff would develop policies, procedures and specifications for size of each areas. Although there are no preliminary design plans to review, Staff will discuss with the Commission and request the Commission review the concept and provide feedback.

International Park Concept for Tom Evatt Park



February 25, 2015