

PUBLIC FORUM

Martin Skelson, Milpitas resident, handed the Mayor some photographs of the Milpitas Community Garden showing that some posts installed there were not maintained well, and had termite damage, due to untreated wood.

Robert Marini, Milpitas resident, had spoken to an attorney this date about a previous comment from the City Attorney about his effort being termed campaigning at the dais during Council meetings. He discussed new well water and costs spent by the City to switch over to that source in the future. Groundwater would not be used for residential source of household water.

Lekha Shankla was angry about a letter she'd received about her husband's car and the request to move the 1977 Camaro. She felt the City did not have a right to tell the couple to move the car off their property. They paid taxes and this should not be a communist place.

Ms. Shankla's husband said the car had been sitting there more than 20 years, and only recently someone had complained. So now the City was telling them to move it. He did not understand that and wanted an explanation why he got such a letter. He claimed no neighbors he'd spoken to had complained to the City.

Councilmember Giordano responded to the couple about a blight ordinance. She asked the City Attorney if the couple could file for an exemption to that. City Attorney Chris Diaz said he would read the ordinance and talk to code enforcement staff if there was an appeal process.

Rob Means, Milpitas resident, displayed a video about "Tipping Points" that he had shown in the past about climate change.

Voltaire Montemayor, Milpita resident, commented on the video shown by Mr. Means. He felt lucky to be in Milpitas, a well-balanced City.

Michael Tsai, Milpitas resident, said steps needed to be taken to fight climate change. He identified some taken by City Council, specifically with the TASP and BART station area development, which he favored. He suggested that public safety needed more resources.

Ysenia Illescas, Milpitas resident, needed to advocate for her child who was assaulted. She sought assistance for the child, who needed services. Her rights needed to be represented in court.

PUBLIC HEARING

1. CDBG Allocations for Fiscal Year 2016-17 Housing Planner Hung Nguyen presented an overview of the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program for the upcoming fiscal year. $420,364 was the amount of available total funding from the federal government for City of Milpitas, with 65% allocated for non-public, 15% public and 20% for administration.

She reported that City Council had previously had adopted priorities for this funding. Non-public priorities were: 1) home repair, 2) affordable housing, and 3) rental apartment rehabilitation. $200,000 was recommended for the Rehabilitation Loan Fund for the next Fiscal Year.

The One Year Action Plan would also be adopted this evening to inform the federal Housing and Urban Development department of the plan for the CDBG funds in Milpitas over the coming year.

Councilmember Giordano stated that it would be helpful to know how much each group had received in CDBG funding in the past few years.

Vice Mayor Montano asked if the $200,000 for the rehabilitation fund was taken away from otherwise funding other groups. Mr. Wong replied no, it was an allocation from HUD for this purpose (not the public funds to outside non-profits).

Mayor Esteves asked for speakers to come to the podium from the applicant groups.

Karen Kolander, of Milpitas Food Pantry, spoke of the money being allocated to make the most impact on the most residents in Milpitas. She knew that other agencies had millions of dollars, while her group really needed the $25,000 she had requested.

Theresa Johnson, Director of Meals of Wheels for the Health Trust, discussed funds that help her agency's clients with provision of hot meals in Milpitas. The recommendation was zero from staff, while the City Council's first priority for funding was seniors.

Alex was the Director of Government Affairs for the Fresh Lifelines for Youth (FLY) program for youth) at Calaveras Hills high school. He thanked the Council for past support and looked forward to continued support from the City. FLY hoped to serve 40 - 80 youth in Milpitas with its legal education program.

Karen Scussel, Executive Director of Child Advocates of Silicon Valley, advocated for foster youth in Santa Clara County. The program had been in Milpitas since 2003 and first received CDBG funds from this city two years ago. The agency planned to serve 42-43 foster children in Milpitas next year.

Amy Marseline, from the Long Term Care Ombudsman program of the Catholic Charities of Santa Clara County, spoke next. The program served one nursing home in Milpitas and seven assisted living centers and board & care homes. She and two volunteers visited the facilities in Milpitas, advocating for vulnerable residents, who were seniors and disabled.

Mayor Esteves asked her about other sources of funding. Vice Mayor Montano asked her about the types of residential care facilities Ms. Marseline visited in Milpitas, and how many people were in each.

Leslie, Development Director for Rebuilding Together Silicon Valley, thanked the City Council for its current and past support of the program. She looked forward to continued funding from the city to help residents take care of their homes, with minor repairs and urgent needed work.

Georgia Bacil, senior legal attorney for Senior Adults Legal Assistance (SALA), provided free legal services to very low income senior citizens. SALA helped seniors on-site at the Barbara Lee Senior Center, by scheduling appointments monthly two days per month. Her group requested the same funding amount as last year. SALA served 49 seniors last year, and expected to increase that number next year.

Vice Mayor Montano asked for further details of the services SALA provided.

At 8:30 PM, the Mayor opened the public hearing for speakers from the audience.

Christian, lived in Milpitas 21 years and worked at Kaiser. He was a volunteer with FLY and had been a juvenile offender in his teens. He was an advocate for the FLY program, graduated early from high school, and went to college younger than most kids.

Ronald Fernando, a Milpitas native, spoke of a difficult family life and crimes in the past. He was introduced to the FLY program by his brother when he was young and now advocated for funding for this youth legal program.

Bob Nunez, Milpitas resident and former County Commissioner, addressed a prior comment about the method of funding for CDBG funds. He supported the staff and CAC recommendation to City Council for allocation of these federal funds.

Robert Marini, Milpitas resident, felt more information and disclosure on this program was needed. How many people would be served and how much money should be stated by the staff, with regard to the Rehabilitation Revolving loan fund.

Motion/Second: Councilmember Giordano/Vice Mayor Montano

AYES: 4
NOES: 0
ABSENT: 1 (Grilli)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

2. Update on BART project

This matter was heard following agenda item no. 6. Ms. Carolyn Gonot, Director of Engineering and Transportation Program for the Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority, provided the City Council with her update on BART.

Ms. Gonot reviewed Phase 1 (new Warm Springs BART station in south Fremont) which was nearly complete, and discussed the status of Phase 2 (the planned Milpitas station at Great Mall). She displayed a variety of photos of the work done to date. She showed a video of the site and current construction of the station, bus area, and the 1200 space multi-story parking garage.

The Mayor and Vice Mayor asked her a variety of questions on station details, including measures of security and safety, parking, lighting, and timing of the station opening.

Next, Mayor Esteves asked for speakers from the audience.

Rob Means, 1421 Yellowstone resident, commented on the number of parking spaces which was too small versus the anticipated number of BART riders at the station. He wanted to have a PRT loop at the BART station.

Robert Marini, Milpitas resident, noticed the reduced capacity on Dixon Landing Road, while traffic would be getting worse. The train would still cross over Dixon Landing Road and also BART would not help that traffic situation, he thought. He liked the PRT suggestion by Rob Means.

Voltaire Montemayor, Milpitas resident, felt security cameras were good to have at the BART station. He was excited for this modern development.

Steve Siddell, Milpitas resident, thought $3 million should be allocated by BART to hire ten new police officers to have the policing needed in the area, for true community policing as the citizens were used to.

Mayor Esteves asked about the security plan on site. Ms. Gonot said VTA was still working on that for the new stations, working with BART police and the County Sheriff. The Mayor reported that residents asked him why the trains for BART would not go underneath the ground, instead they were at the ground level (at grade). Several reasons were decided related to site distance, grade and ADA issues that would have made it complicated to go underground or below grade level.

The Mayor noted that people were advocating for a shuttle bus throughout Milpitas once BART opened, and would like to work in concert with Santa Clara VTA on that. He referred to residents' concern about noise occurring during construction.

Mayor Esteves thanked VTA staff for coming to this meeting to provide the update report. The City looked forward very much to the new station opening in Milpitas.

Motion: to receive a report on the status of the BART station construction from VTA staff Carolyn Gonot at the Council meeting

Motion/Second: Councilmember Barbadillo/Vice Mayor Montano

Motion carried by a vote of:

AYES: 3

NEW BUSINESS

6. Report on MUSD Enrollment This item was discussed prior to item No. 2, BART update.

Councilmember Giordano acknowledged that this matter will return to City Council when the school district staff was available. She wanted to ask district staff where they were with the McCandless school site. When a development project arrives (as at the last Council meeting), and when there are recommendations from the school district, she wanted to hear more proactive comments from the district.

Vice Mayor Montano remarked about growth and development due to BART coming. She talked about enrollment that has gone down in some of the school districts in the region, not grown. This was happening all around, in part due to housing costs.

Mayor Esteves asked for any comments from the public on this item.

Steve Siddell, Milpitas resident, noted his kids went to public school in San Francisco with 40 to 42 kids per class. That yielded differing results for each child. If MUSD was worried about a few more kids in the schools, when it was possible to have success even with high enrollment. Feedback from the School District on class sizes would be helpful.

The next speaker was a member of the Board of Trustees so the Mayor asked Mr. Bob Nunez if he was speaking on behalf of MUSD, and he said yes. Mr. Nunez said he would take the questions to the Superintendent from this meeting.

Voltaire Montemayor, Milpitas resident, believed it was parents' job to send their kids to school. He noted that some were slow learners, and he wanted to inspire all kids.

Motion: to continue this item to a future meeting date and to ask the Milpitas Unified School District to respond to questions raised

Motion/Second: Councilmember Giordano/Vice Mayor Montano

AYES: 4
NOES: 0
ABSENT: 1 (Grilli)

Councilmember Giordano then departed from the meeting at 9:07 PM.
