

Welcome to the City of Milpitas Building and Safety Department

June-2011

Business Resource Center:

The Building and Safety Department is proud to announce the creation of our innovative Business Resource Center. Now, it will become much easier to search and find all necessary information to start and operate a new business.

The Business Resource Center is a streamlined permitting process available on-line. For years, developers, business owners and designers were not sure what exactly was required for the opening of a business in an existing building, altering or building a new building. The Business Resource Center is designed to guide the applicant through the permitting process from start to finish without any need to visit City Hall.
