

Risk Level Red

What is open and closed

Santa Clara County is at the Red Risk Level under the State's new COVID-19 reopening framework. That means certain activities can resume, and certain businesses can reopen indoor operations at reduced capacity. Some indoor businesses and activities are still too high risk to allow at this time, however, and the local order and directives ensure that people who live in the county are protected from these risks. For example, movie theaters, indoor gatherings, and indoor dining are not yet permitted to reopen under Santa Clara County's Order. Remember to follow the more restrictive set of rules. Continue to keep your distance, wear your mask, and get tested.

The infographic is a vertical layout with a red and white color scheme. At the top, it states 'Santa Clara County is at Red Risk Level'. Below this, there are two columns of information. The left column lists 'Allowed indoors' with four items: Nail salons, Body waxing salons, Tattoo and piercing parlors, and K-12 Schools (after being 14 days in Red). The right column lists 'Allowed indoors at reduced capacity' with three items: Museums, zoos and aquariums at 25% capacity; Gyms and fitness centers at 10% capacity; and Malls can increase capacity to 50% (opened at 25% in Purple). Below this, it lists 'Not yet allowed to resume operation under the County Order' with three items: Movie theaters, Indoor gatherings, and Indoor dining. A section titled 'County orders might differ slightly from the State's' advises following the stricter set of rules. At the bottom, it states 'Our website has detailed information:' followed by the URL 'sccgov.org/cv19order'. A navigation bar at the bottom of the infographic says 'Swipe to see what's new' with a right-pointing arrow.
